Shipment Information

Where possible we will dispatch your entire order at the same time from the same warehouse.

However, if any item(s) are not marked as shipped in this dispatch email, they are likely being fulfilled from another warehouse and will be dispatched separately. If part of your order is being sent separately, you will receive multiple emails with the tracking information once these have been shipped. Please note there may be a slight delay in these deliveries.

If you've received this dispatch notification after 6pm, or during the weekend, your parcel won't be collected until the next working day. Please note that any notifications sent by our couriers do not 100% guarantee delivery will be undertaken on the time/date specified.

Packing Note: To reduce packaging and support sustainability, our warehouse team may place smaller items inside larger ones when possible. Please check all contents thoroughly upon delivery.

Check Your order Status In Your Account

If you have an account, you can check your order by logging into Your Account.

Have a Question or Require Assistance?

If you have any queries or concerns regarding your order, you can find more information in our FAQs. For further assistance, feel free to reach out to us via the Contact Form located in the relevant section of our FAQs.
